Restaurants & Lounges (according to the hotel list)

Waxy's Little Restaurant – As well as serving a sumptuous breakfast buffet, traditional English snacks and light dishes, one of the special treats in store at Waxy's is afternoon tea. Play pool or simply relax with a cocktail or glass of wine during Happy Hour.

Troyka Restaurant & Club – Get Russian food and live entertainment at Troyka, a cosy Russian restaurant. Open for lunch and evening dining until late.

Ayam Zaman – This ground floor restaurant offers Lebanese delights and exotic dishes promising memorable Arabian night.

Yakitori House – Located on the 5th floor, the Yakitori House serves Japanese specialties and favorites such as sushi, tempura and sashimi.

Waxy O'Conner's – Irish bar.

Guests of the Ascot Hotel enjoy a complimentary breakfast each morning.

The takeaway:

Proper budget hotel located in the center of Bur Dubai
What you need to know is that with Dubai's traffic and transportation issues, this hotel is only recommended if your business takes you to the Bur Dubai area. With Russian, CIS and Moroccan/other ladies present at the bars, this hotel is definitely not recommended for family vacations or family travel.
Expect heavy delays if you are trying to cross the Maktoom bridge to go Deira or Sharjah. Medium delays to be expected if you are going to Jumeirah, Sheikh Zayed road or the Internet City/Media City. Expect Taxi tolls to be very expensive if you are going anywhere but areas within Bur Dubai
